Presenting "Significantly Less Deceptive"

Live at the Internet Archive, on Wednesday, September 16, we invite you to join us for a performance by Negativland, the legendary sound collage collective. Presenting Over The Edge: Significantly Less Deceptive, Negativland's live "theater of the mind" experience blends found sound, music, radio, humor, and sonic experimentation.

Following its infamous U2 parody and legal battle—which sparked a defining moment in the fight over fair use, artistic freedom, and who controls culture—Negativland comes to the Internet Archive's San Francisco headquarters as those questions remain as relevant today as ever.

See you there!
